More Names Wanted By Security Probers

Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy
(Charges Communists in State Department)

WASHINGTON, March 15—(P)—Senator Tydings (D-Md.) said today Senate investigators expect to get State Department files on persons accused by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) of Communist leanings.

He told a news conference that John E. Peurifoy, deputy under secretary of state, had indicated to him that the files will be made available.

Tydings is chairman of a Senate foreign relations subcommittee which is investigating McCarthy's contentions that Communists have infiltrated the department.

In four days of committee hearings, McCarthy has named nine individuals he called subversive or bad security risks. He also has handed the committee a list of 25 other State Department employees he said are apparently bad risks.

The State Department has declared that all those named publicly by McCarthy—if they ever worked for the department—were thoroughly investigated and found to be loyal.

Some Never There

Some of those he named never were State Department employees. Others no longer are.

The committee has been pressing for more names to back up his charges. He has replied that he needs "a couple nights of sleep" before he proceeds.

The Wisconsin Republican's plea for more time came after Dorothy Kenyon, one of those he has accused of being pro-Communist, reported tartly: "There is not a Communist bone in my body."

Miss Kenyon, former American delegate on a United Nations commission, took the witness stand yesterday afternoon. She denied emphatically McCarthy's contention that she has a background of "deeply rooted Communist activities."

Her denial came on the heels of (Please Turn To Page Two)

Child Actress Changes Story Of Run-away

HOLLYWOOD, March 15—(P)—Runaway Lora Lee Michel, 9-year-old $100 a day actress, has reversed her stories of being starved to keep thin for movie roles, says Juvenile Judge A. A. Scott.

"She is a precocious, emotional child who could get a lot of people into trouble," Judge Scott said last night after a long interview with the child.

He said she told him she had never been beaten or starved by her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Michel, and that they had been wonderful to her.

Monday night the youngster left the Michel's apartment and, clad only in pajamas, took a cab to the home of Rev. Alfred Sundstrum in nearby Burbank.

He said she told him "I had to get away, I couldn't stand it any longer."

The girl had stayed with the minister during last month's custody battle. The Michels were awarded care of the child over the objections of her natural mother, Mrs. Lena Brunson of Nederland, Tex., who had relinquished her several years ago.

The case first came to public attention when Lora Lee complained to authorities that she was beaten because she gained a pound. Mrs. Brunson was notified and the custody hearing followed.

In granting custody to the Michels, Judge Scott advised them to take the child out of the movies. A few weeks later, however, she went back to work in a picture.

Then she ran away and authorities were called into the case a second time.

"I don't know what to believe," Judge Scott said last night, "but one thing certain. We're going to get to the bottom of this and I mean the real bottom."

Meanderings

By Wash Fayette

While Police Chief Vaiden Long was returning from Cincinnati Tuesday afternoon, after placing John R. Ford of Sinking Springs, in the workhouse, he noticed a hitch-hiker along the road near Cincinnati.

A second look and he identified the man as Tom Evans, whom he had taken to the Cincinnati Workhouse two months ago, and who was enroute to his home here.

Evans had recently been released from the workhouse. Chief Long picked Tom up and brought him to Washington C. H.

"I've had all the workhouse I want," Tom declared. He told Chief Long that the Cincinnati institution is a place where prisoners are really worked and kept under rigid discipline.

SURPLUS GIVE-AWAY PROPOSED

Military Cost To Be Deducted In Tax Payment

Letter Is Written To President by Ohio Quaker Widow

YELLOW SPRINGS, March 15—(P)—Today—March 15—is the deadline for millions of citizens filing federal income tax returns. But it is a day of special significance for Mrs. Caroline F. Urie, Quaker widow.

For the third time the local woman will refuse to pay the portion of her income taxes she figures the government will use for "war purposes."

After studying government appropriations, Mrs. Urie, who is 76, figures 30.25 per cent of her income taxes would be used for "war purposes."

Thus far, nothing has happened because of her refusal on two other occasions to pay the full amount, and for these reasons:

Because of the nature of her income, Mrs. Urie is required to make an estimate for the current year, and pay a quarterly installment or more when the estimate is filed. March 15 is the filing deadline.

Most taxpayers, whose income comes from wages and who are subject to the withholding tax, settle up on March 15 for income earned last year.

Started Two Years Ago

Two years ago Mrs. Urie filed an estimate for 1948 income, and then paid the entire estimate, less 34.6 per cent she thought would be used for "war purposes."

However, the tax rate was reduced that year, and her income was less than she had estimated. Thus, when the year ended she found she had actually had paid the entire tax.

The next year—1949—she filed an estimate and "deducted" 32.3 per cent. She decided to pay the tax quarterly. Members of the "Peacemakers", an organization opposed to paying taxes for "war purposes", says she will not become officially delinquent in payments for 1949 until tomorrow—March 16.

A member of the organization estimated that her income tax probably would amount to about $100. Mrs. Urie did not reveal what her tax bill would be.

The "Peacemakers", which has its headquarters in New York City, said in an announcement that six other Yellow Springs residents will refuse to pay the same percentage of their taxes, for the same reason.

Limits Considered For Steel Industry

WASHINGTON, March 15—(P)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) proposed today that Congress look into the question of limiting the amount of business any single steel company can do.

Taft made his proposal in a weekly report to Ohio voters. Chairman O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) disclosed, meanwhile, that the Democratic majority of the Senate House economic committee believes there is no practical competition within the steel industry.

Differing with O'Mahoney, Taft said that in his opinion the evidence taken by the committee "shows there is no collusion between the companies and that competition is reasonably active."

"I do think," the Ohio senator said, "there is a doubtful question, namely, whether the position of the United States Steel Corporation is so predominant that it has power to fix prices and at least modify the usual effect of competition."

Check on Movie Land Morals Sought

WASHINGTON, March 15—(P)—The Senate commerce committee set the stage today for a mid-April airing of Hollywood film-land morals. Its angry chairman, Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), was in the director's chair.

Johnson, who erupted in the Senate yesterday about the Ingrid Bergman-Roberto Rossellini romance, told a reporter the motion picture industry is going to be called on the carpet to explain why the morals of some of its stars aren't better.

"I'm not a prude or a Puritan and I love good movies," Johnson said. "But it seems to me the in-

City School Teachers All Set

Twenty-four teachers in the Washington C. H. school system were given one-year limited contracts in an executive session of the Board of Education Tuesday night. The remainder of the 70 teachers in the city schools have continuing contracts.

Meeting in the office of Supt. Stephen C. Brown, the board members discussed school building insurance, job openings, changes in tuition charges and heard a few other announcements. The nine elementary school teachers awarded new one-year contracts were Ray Gorman, Mrs. Dorothy Everhart, Miss Gladys Anderson, Mrs. Dorothy Stanforth, Mrs. Ruth Barker, Mrs. Cletis Waddle, Mrs. Mary Gillespie, Mrs. Lucille Davis and Mrs. Ellen Pensyl.

The high school teachers given new one-year contracts include William Bowman, William Clift, Robert Eisenbrey, Arthur Engle, Mrs. Jane Grillo, Charles Mustine, Ronald Guinn, Charles Pensyl, Mrs. Marjorie Pensyl, Miss Edith Ramage, Gordon Ryder, Mrs. Rosalee Satchell, Mark Schaeper, Mrs. Rita Schaeper and Jack White.

In addition, Miss Marion Christopher and Miss Helen Hutson, on leaves of absence this year, will be returning next year, Brown said. Mrs. Annabel Dawson took Miss Christopher's place this year and Jack White handled Miss Hutson's subjects in her absence.

Discuss Insurance

Paul Mohr, insurance agent of the Farm Bureau Co-op, appeared before the board and asked for a clarification of the arrangement under which insurance on the city's school buildings is allocated.

The board explained that Richard Willis was the insurance agent through whom six insurance companies here shared the policies covering the school buildings. They couldn't elaborate beyond that, they said, since the arrangement has been followed without change for some time.

The board then decided to call in Willis in the near future and go over the entire school insurance program to make it as equitable as possible and make sure that the coverage is complete and up-to-date.

Supt. Brown told the board he had received a letter of acceptance from Dr. Cleo Dawson, to speak at the high school commencement here on June 1. Dr. Dawson, psychologist and lecturer and former professor at the University of Kentucky, spoke at the Rotary Ann dinner here not long ago.

Two Positions Open

The board also discussed the secretary's vacancy left in Supt. Brown's office by the resignation of Mrs. Luella Puckett. She left Friday. Board members decided to advertise for applicants, preferably those with shorthand experience.

The board also is still considering applications for the post of clerk-purchasing agent, vacated by Dana Hyer last January 31.

Supt. Brown announced that changes in the tuition rates have been made by the finance division of the state department of education.

The tuition for elementary school pupils attending school in the city was raised from $5.06 to $6.55 per pupil. The charge per high school pupil was raised from $12.21 to $15.22.

Although notice of the tuition changes were received just a few days ago by Brown, they were to become effective January 1, 1950. Bills for this school year's tuition have been already sent out, Brown said, and were computed at the old rate.

Health & P. E. Revamping

Supt. Brown also announced that Mrs. Florence Fogle, who works out of the state department of education and Ohio State University and Paul Landis, supervisor of the (Please Turn To Page Two)

Private Investors Dicker for Lustron

WASHINGTON, March 15—(P)—An eleven-hour effort to keep alive the Lustron prefabricated housing venture faced a major test today.

Reconstruction Finance Corp. officials had a date with private investors who, they said, have evolved a plan to make the big Columbus, Ohio, prefab plant solvent.

They indicated that a major problem for discussion is how much of Lustron's $37,500,000 debt to the government the unidentified new group might shoulder. Lustron is in receivership as a result of an RFC foreclosure suit.

Harvey L. Gunderson, RFC director, disclosed the new rescue move yesterday at a Senate banking committee hearing. The same meetings brought into the open a drive in Congress to strip the RFC of authority over the Lustron loans and the lending of money to other prefabs.

"Word has reached me questioning the wisdom of releasing him (Newman) in the face of his previous record. I know nothing about the matter so therefore I cannot express an opinion. I do intend to look into the matter."

Penitentiary Warden Ralph Alvis said Newman was "a good inmate."

Newman started serving a life sentence March 17, 1931, for robbing a bank in nearby Westerville, Ohio, of $6,529. He walked away while working as a trustee at the State Highway Department garage (Please turn to Page Twelve)

Potatoes First For Attention; May Set Pattern

Wheat Acreage Adjustment To Be Considered Later

WASHINGTON, March 15—(P)—A far-reaching give-away program, intended to lift the surplus potato burden from the farm price support plan, may be on President Truman's desk by the week end.

The program is included in compromise legislation, that also seeks to remove inequities in cotton and peanut acreage allotments for the 1950 crop. The measure, approved yesterday by a Senate-House conference committee, is expected to get prompt approval by the two houses.

It would authorize about 1,250,000 additional acres for the 1950 cotton plantings, and boost peanut acreage by about 100,000, principally in Alabama and Texas.

Provisions for wheat acreage adjustments were dropped from the bill with the understanding that they will be handled later in separate legislation.

Here's what the compromise does:

The secretary of agriculture is authorized not only to give away surplus potatoes bought by the government but also to pay the transportation for their delivery to such recipients as public and private non-profit institutions and organizations.

Gifts of potatoes may be made abroad, through international organizations, and the United States government would pay the freight to the American port where the potatoes are to be loaded for shipment.

The bill makes a start at getting to the bottom of the surplus production problem. It provides 1950 price supports for only those potatoes produced by farmers operating under marketing agreements or, if it is too late to institute such agreements generally, the supported growers must operate under a program devised by the secretary for orderly movement of the spuds to markets.

For 1951 the bill provides supports only for potatoes operating under a marketing quota system. Details of this system will be worked out in separate legislation.

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan urged Congress again today to apply the Brannan farm plan with its "production payments" provision to the 1951 Irish potato crop.

The secretary indicated to a Senate agriculture subcommittee that he figures it will be cheaper.

As an example, he estimated the current huge potato surplus would have cost the government "between 25 or 35 million dollars" under the Brannan plan. Under present price supports the cost will run "between 80 and 100 million dollars," he said.

The secretary was called to give his views on measures to clamp rigid controls on potato crops in 1951 and following years. He has complained he now lacks authority to set up effective controls by the bushel and bag.

Soft Coal Prices Up after Strike

PITTSBURGH, March 15—(P)—The soft coal strike may be over, but its effects keep cropping up. Soft coal prices today are an average of 25 cents a ton higher.

Hard coal prices also went up—in some instances as much as 75 cents a ton. The coal operators say increased costs are responsible.

The pattern was set for the soft coal industry yesterday by its biggest producer, the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Company. It hiked its wholesale prices 10 to 25 cents a ton.

George H. Love, president of the firm, said the increases reflect "part of the increased labor costs in the mining of coal."

Baby Sitter Is Shot By Children's Father

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 15—(P)—A 15-year-old girl, taking care of six small children, was shot to death last night in front of one of the children.

Chief of Detectives Verne Starnes said 23-year-old Clarence C. Speer, Jr., readily admitted shooting baby sitter Caryle Roberta Johnson.

The shooting followed an argument over whether the girl should accompany Speer to a movie or serve as a baby sitter.

Surgeon Coming Here; Meets Hospital Staff

A young surgeon who brings with him recognized high qualifications and the recommendations of top-flight professional medical and surgical men of Cleveland and Cuyahoga County, is to take up residence in Washington C. H. about July 1.

Dr. Byers W. Shaw

The new surgeon is Dr. Byers W. Shaw who has been investigating this community for some time and decided he would like to live here. He also was attracted by the new Fayette County Memorial Hospital which is expected to be opened within a few weeks.

Dr. Shaw was present Tuesday evening at a meeting of the recently organized staff of the new hospital here. This session was held at the home of Dr. J. H. Persinger, chief of staff, and was attended by all local members of the staff including its latest addition, Dr. Robert Woodmansee, soon to begin practice here with his father Dr. A. D. Woodmansee.

Complete agreement was reached and full cooperation assured between Dr. Shaw and all other members of the staff during this meeting. Dr. Shaw indicated he would not become a general practitioner but would confine his field of activity to general surgery.

He has been the resident surgeon for four years at Lakeside Hospital, affiliated with Western Reserve University at Cleveland. He is 30 years of age, is married and has one child, a two weeks old son. He is now seeking a residence and a location for his office here.

Dr. Shaw graduated from the Danville High School in Knox County, also Kenyon College and in 1945 received his degree from the Western Reserve University Medical School. He did his internship in the University Hospital there. He is a member of the Cleveland Academy of Medicine, is eligible for and has applied for membership in the Junior College of Surgeons and the American Board of Surgery. He is a member of the Alpha Kappa Kappa medical fraternity and also holds membership in Phi Kappa Sigma and Phi Beta Kappa. He has written a number of important (Please Turn To Page Two)

Showdown Is Imminent On Housing Aid Bill

WASHINGTON, March 15—(P)—The Senate came up to an important vote today on President Truman's proposal of government housing aid for "middle income families."

The test was expected to be decided on a close vote.

At issue is a proposal to use $1,000,000,000 of government credit for long-term, low-interest loans to cooperatives and other non-profit groups. The loans would be expected to aid groups of families, with incomes averaging between $2,400 and $4,700 a year, to rent or own better housing.

Senator Sparkman (D-Ala.) and other advocates of the plan—which already has been cut in half and revised to meet some objections—contended in reply to criticism it is not as inflationary as more than $2,000,000,000 already pledged to large-scale rental projects. The plan is part of a general housing bill which includes provision for a number of other programs.

Sensors Long (D-La.), Russell (D-Ga.) and Lehman (D-Lib.-N.Y.) joined Sparkman in hammering away at past and present government housing guarantees made to private industry and even "real estate speculators" for housing projects.

Long told the Senate yesterday that some of these speculators had been able to "pocket 20 cents of every dollar" advanced under government-guaranteed loans.

The test on middle income housing will come first on a motion by Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) to knock the cooperative provisions out of the omnibus housing bill. He, and others, said the government should be getting out of the housing business; some hit at co-operatives as socialistic.

If the Bricker move fails Senators Ives (R-NY) and Tobey (R-NH) have a substitute which would allow the cooperatives to obtain government insured mortgages on the same basis now available to other housing builders or buyers.

British Socialism Hits Financial Snag

LONDON, March 15—(P)—Britain's Labor government last night beat a third conservative attempt in parliament to upset the socialist regime. The Tories unsuccessfully attacked Laborite spending policies.

The motion of censure by opposition leader Winston Churchill was defeated 308 to 289, giving the Laborites a winning margin of 19.

The Conservative attack was indirectly aimed at Laborite handling of the nation's vast health scheme, leaders of which had asked for extra appropriations over the amounts of their 1949-1950 budget.

But before the vote was taken Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the Exchequer, told the House of Commons a halt would be called to expansion of the nation's health service. He also warned other departments to adhere to their budgets.

Parachutes Save Three After Crash in Air

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Mar. 15—(P)—Two jet planes collided over New Mexico yesterday and three airmen parachuted safely to the ground two miles below.

The crash was over Sandia Special Weapons Base where the A-bomb is assembled.

Drive Planned On Tax Dodgers

Rewards Put Up For 'Informers'

WASHINGTON, March 15—(P)—The government trained its guns on tax dodgers—past and future alike—as it came up to the 1949 income tax payment deadline at midnight tonight.

To get help in bringing to light new evasion attempts, it dangled before prospective tax informers a $500,000 pool of funds available this year for evidence uncovering tax frauds.

To mop up on cases involving income amassed in the big war profit year of 1943, it asked grand juries over the country to rush indictments today lest the law's time-lapse limits bar further action.

An indictment, or some other form of action such as the filing of a bill of complaint, has to be in the record by midnight to get within the time limit as to 1943 returns.

Pay for Tipsters

As for informers, they will have a chance to ring up a record haul this year for the third year in a row.

There are more than 40,000,000 persons subject to the federal income tax. How many will try to cut corners is just a guess.

Last year was a big year for informers—and the government.

The government paid out $449,984 to 97 informers, in rewards ranging from $25.86 to $47,072, for aid that led to the recovery of $8,187,914 in taxes that otherwise would have escaped detection.

That completely overshadowed the previous record tallied in 1948, when informer rewards totaled $99,975 and led to recoveries totaling $2,351,000.

The main reasons for tax informing—patriotic desire to prevent evasions, disgruntlement of employees with their bosses, family feuds and jealousies, and women scored—endure in peace as well as in war.

The biggest reward to date, $80,000 that was split among three people, came in a case where the government recovered $2,600,000 back in the depressed mid-1930s.

Western Thriller Moves into Mexico

MARFA, Tex., March 15—(P)—The hunt for the slayer of Texas Sheriff O. W. (Blackie) Morrow has shifted to the Mexican side of the Rio Grande.

Officers reported last night that the fugitive's trail led to the Rio Grande about nine miles above Presidio, Tex.

A small group of U. S. officers joined Mexican officials in an effort to flush the man out of northern Mexico's mountains.

"About all you can say is that he is in Mexico," Texas Ranger Captain Gully Cowsett, who is directing the search, said late last night.

The sheriff, 43, was shot early Sunday on a lonely mountain road near the ghost mining town of Shafter.

Governor Plans Investigation Of Parole of Ohio Bank Bandit

COLUMBUS, March 15—(P)—James (Jim) Newman, convicted bank robber, has been granted a parole, but Gov. Frank J. Lausche says he plans to "look into" the wisdom of releasing the 37-year-old man.

Newman's parole was granted by a two-to-one vote of the Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission. It is effective April 20.

During his crime career which began in 1914, Newman twice escaped from Ohio Penitentiary and once escaped a county prison in New Jersey.

Last night the governor said:

Poland Withdraws From World Bank

WASHINGTON, March 15—(P)—Poland withdrew from the world bank today with an angry charge that the 48-nation institution is under the thumb of the United States and "its imperialist policy." It also pulled out of the international monetary fund.

In a communication to the bank, the Communist-dominated Polish government cited the refusal of the bank to grant it a $200,000,000 loan. It said the reason was Poland's rejection of "the so-called Marshall Plan which has as its aim the subordination of Europe to the United States and the rebuilding of the par potential of Germany."

Camille Gutt, managing director of the international Monetary fund, announced Poland's withdrawal from membership in it.

articles for medical publications and is reputed by professional associates to be a coming young surgeon with a real future. He possesses a very pleasing personality.

At the hospital staff meeting at the Dr. Persinger home, there were a number of visiting medical men including Dr. Norris E. Lenahan and Dr. Carl E. Tetrick, of Columbus, who head the department of anesthesia at St. Anthony's Hospital. They gave illustrated talks on body fluids and fluid tests of the blood and body.

Rules governing general procedure for the new hospital here were submitted to the medical staff at this meeting by Miss Christine Evans, hospital administrator. The part of the rules pertaining to medical and surgical procedure was held by the staff for further study and will be acted upon at another special meeting to be held in about 10 days.

internal revenue and President Truman of her intentions. Her letter to the president said in part:

"Your public authorization for the production of the hydrogen bomb by our government shocked thoughtful people in this country into realizing that this is the climax of the sinister world leader's up the United States has now assumed in the most appalling suicidal public program of recorded history—deliberate preparations for mass extermination of human species."

The announcement by the "Peacemakers" said these couples from Yellow Springs would refuse to pay a part of their taxes.

Dr. and Mrs. Horace Champney, Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Templin, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dyer.

In Wilmington, the Rev. Ernest R. Bromley and a number of other persons in various parts of the country will refuse formally today to pay their federal income tax on the grounds a big share of the money goes toward the making of war materials.

The Rev. Bromley is chairman of the tax refusal committee of "Peacemakers."

The minister said today's refusals would be accompanied by a demonstration at the government atom bomb plant in Oak Ridge, Tenn., by Katsuki James Otsuka of Richmond, Ind.

Otsuka, a former Earlham College student, recently was released from the federal correctional institution at Ashland, Ky., after serving five months of sentence for refusal to pay his income tax.

Bromley said arrangements called for Otsuka to go to the Oak Ridge plant, tear off 70 per cent of a one-dollar bill. He said the demonstration was meant to

Illness in Nosedive In City's Schools

Illness has taken a nosedive in the Washington C. H. schools. Attendance figures for Wednesday, according to City Supt. of Schools Stephen C. Brown, are down to 99 for all six schools. Total school enrollment runs around 1,970.

Two weeks ago the flu, common colds and other ailments kept a total of 263 students away from their classes. The drop to 99, indicating that the crisis is past, will cause many parents to breathe easier.

The number absent, by school are: high school, 35; Central, 11; Cherry Hill, 11; Eastside, 24; Rose Avenue, 8; and Sunnyside, 10.

Secretary Inquiry

disavowals, too, on the part of others whom McCarthy accused yesterday of being bad security risks.

Closed Door Meeting
After the Senate foreign relations subcommittee investigating McCarthy's charges heard Miss Kenyon, the group scheduled a meeting behind closed doors for today.

Senator Tydings (D-Md) said the session was called to (1) discuss ways of speeding up the inquiry and (2) to see what can be done about getting names in the 81 "security risk" cases which McCarthy outlined to the Senate Feb. 20.

So far McCarthy has given the committee the names of only one or two of the 81 individuals.

"It is absolutely baffling," Tydings said, "that charges were made in 81 cases, but we can't get the names. What is the use of charging disloyalty if you let them stay there (in the State Department) for six months?"

"Obviously, we can't investigate a person whose name we don't know."

In reply, McCarthy told reporters that he will turn over all of the names as soon as he can finish documenting the cases. He added that he won't be able to do it, or to resume testimony at public hearings "until I get a couple nights of sleep."

McCarthy said he is worn out from staying up until two or three o'clock each morning working on his cases.

He noted that yesterday he gave the committee the names of 25 persons he described as apparently poor security risks on the basis of FBI investigations. He did not name them in asking the committee to check each of the individuals—none of them on his original list of 81.

Tydings declared the group intends to go to work on the 25, but he said he would like to have all of the names McCarthy has before any move is made to scrutinize the loyalty files.

The committee has hired Edward P. Morgan, a former FBI agent, as chief counsel. He will direct the planned file search.

Morgan was on the staff of the Senate-House committee which investigated the Pearl Harbor disaster.

Scissors Sisters Plan To Make Scrapbooks

Announcement was made at the last meeting of the Scissors Sisters 4-H club that a 4-H admission ceremony will be given at the next meeting. Each member has been asked to make scrapbooks.

The last meeting of the group was held at the home of Luberta Jinks. Lois Cherryholmes, the vice president, was in charge. The meeting opened with each member repeating the club pledge. Roll call was answered, to be the name of a project. Recreation was led by Sharon Ness and refreshments were served by the hostess and her mother. The next meeting will be held at the home of Elinor and Ann McFadden.

Luta Campfire Girls Discuss Scrapbooks

Members of the Luta Campfire girls discussed their scrapbooks at their last meeting, held Tuesday night at the home of their guardian, Mrs. A. H. Finley.

Refreshments of popcorn were served. Those present worked on their scrapbooks. The group opened the meeting by singing "Nature Hymn."

Sarah Core, the president, asked for a report by the secretary which was approved. Members answered the roll call with their Indian names.

The meeting was closed by the group uniting in the Lord's Prayer and singing the campfire laws, it was reported by Sandy Rose, reporter.

health and physical education section of the state department of education, will come here the latter part of this month.

Mrs. Fogle and Landis will confer with Brown, WHS Principal Arthur Wohlers and the high school health and physical education teachers on the improvement of the health program here. The present program will be revamped, Brown said, and the entire program of health education brought up-to-date.

It was also announced that the school census would be taken this year by the school teachers. The number of children in each family, their names and ages will be the main information gathered. The school census, required by law, will be carried out by May 1.

The board also okayed the February expenditures and gave the clerk, Miss Wanda Plantz, authority to issue checks for bills totaling $2,910. Expenses for the past month were lower than average, Brown said.

Present at the board meeting were Thomas Christopher, who presided, William Allen, Robert Craig, John Sagar, Richard Waters, Brown, Wohlers, and Miss Plantz.

Lioness Club Dinner Meeting Held at Country Club

The regular dinner meeting of the Lioness Club was held at the Washington Country Club Tuesday evening.

Decorations throughout the club, were suggestive of St. Patrick's Day, and was made up of both large and small shamrocks and other motifs to carry out the clever Irish theme.

Long tables, with green top hats and flat arrangements of shamrocks seated the group for the tempting meal.

Lioness president Bobby Marting conducted the brief business session, during which a nominating committee was appointed to select officers for the coming year, composed of Lionesses Janet Loudner, Ruth Vance and Annabel Dawson.

Lioness Ann Terhune, hostess chairman for the meeting, introduced Mrs. Clarence E. Craig, guest speaker, who, in a most delightful manner, spoke on her journey the past year to Europe.

Mrs. Craig's talk was received with enthusiasm by her interested audience.

Guests included with the members were, Mrs. William Heinz, Mrs. Robert Fortier and Mrs. Willis Christman.

Those assisting Lioness Ann Terhune as hostesses for the evening were Lionesses Ruth Vance, Marian Ward, Janice Warner, Virginia Van Voorhis, and Maxine Warner.

for them to clean house in the matter of crime programs and "lively stable humor."

If broadcasters don't act, he said, public opinion will demand "the more drastic remedy of governmental action."

A movie fan of 40 years standing, Johnson criticized what he called the "nauseating commercialism" of RKO Studios in releasing the picture "Stromboli" about the time Miss Bergman gave birth to Rossellini's son. Bergman was the star, Rossellini the director.

He said that action "sets an all-time low in shameless exploitation and disregard for good public morals."

The senator's broadside brought quick response from RKO. In Hollywood, a studio spokesman came to the support of "Stromboli" but offered no defense to the show directed at Miss Bergman.

"There is plenty of censorship in the United State today," the spokesman said, "and even the most severe of these existing censorship bodies have approved the picture 'Stromboli' and have seen fit to judge it upon the contents of the picture, not upon the private lives of the artists associated with it."

Following his Senate speech yesterday, Johnson told a reporter that neither Miss Bergman, once his favorite actress, nor Rossellini, Italian movie director, will be welcome as witnesses at the committee's hearings when they are held a month hence. He said they had forfeited their right to return to this country. Miss Bergman is a native of Sweden.

All-Out Battle for Control Of Portsmouth Steel Corp. Now Moving Toward Showdown

By L. W. BURNS
PORTSMOUTH, March 15—(AP)—An all-out battle for control of the $28,000,000 Portsmouth Steel Corp. moved closer to a showdown today.

Arrayed on opposite sides are white-haired, calm-faced Cyrus Eaton, internationally known Cleveland financier, and a group of minor stockholders headed by Edward J. Helmick, manager of a Cincinnati trucking line.

After moving through the courts, the battle has developed into a contest for stockholders' proxies through which one side or the other will gain a majority vote for decision on what Portsmouth steel's future will be.

The final showdown may come in April, when the annual stockholders' meeting will be held.

The final showdown may come in April, when the annual stockholders' meeting is scheduled.

The controversy revolves around this issue:

Should Portsmouth Steel Corp. be liquidated, and its assets divided among the stockholders? Or should the corporation continue to function, investing the $12,000,000 or more in cash which it now has on hand in some other venture that would make money for the stockholders?

Opportunities Cited

Eaton wants to continue the corporation. He insists there are "attractive opportunities" for further investment which will make it worth while for the corporation to continue.

Helmick wants to wind up the corporation's affairs, let the stockholders cash in on the profit it already has made and "get out".

Helmick claims Portsmouth Steel "no longer is in the steel-producing business, for which it originally was organized," and the stockholders should not "leave control of the corporation's money blindly to Eaton for reinvestment."

Eaton, in an interview at his Cleveland office, said "outside sources" are backing Helmick and a committee of stockholders for proxies to place the corporation in control of a three-man committee.

On the committee he named himself, manager of Greyvan Lines at Cincinnati; Robert Marx, a Cincinnati attorney, and Richard Thayer, Cincinnati broker.

"By liquidating the corporation," Helmick said, "the stockholders can make $5 or $6 a share above the stock's current market value of $12."

"Eaton expects us to place unlimited trust in his judgement. We believe any future investment plans should be submitted to the shareholders for approval or rejection."

"Since Eaton does not desire to take us into his confidence, we believe the corporation should be liquidated."

Secrecy Is Denied

Eaton denied he had refused to inform the stockholders and accused Helmick of "libelous statements" in his letter to the stockholders.

"I informed Helmick," he said, "that I would be glad to see him or any other shareholders who would be interested in the company's policies. Helmick owes it to the shareholders to explain why he does not meet me for a frank discussion."

Eaton said the shareholders' annual meeting will be held "as usual" in April and each shareholder will be "fully informed" and "have an opportunity to be heard."

The controversy began after Portsmouth steel stockholders appeared here to Detroit Steel Corp. proved last November a sale of its for approximately $6,000,000 in cash and 25 percent of Detroit Steel's common stock, valued at approximately $6,000,000.

The sale agreement included

Plans for a $10,000,000 expansion here, installing a new hot-rolled strip mill and an electric-weld pipe mill. First contracts already have been let.

Several stockholders, some from Cincinnati and some from New York, filed suits in common pleas court here asking variously that the court appoint appraisers to determine the "fair cash value" of their stock so they could cash in, and that the court order Portsmouth Steel to turn over the names and addresses of its stockholders.

Up to Stockholders

Helmick announced his committee would canvass the stockholders for a meeting to "determine the future of the corporation." He argued it "should be liquidated."

Eaton said "someone behind the scenes" is "engineering" the stockholders' action. Helmick denied this and said his committee was "acting independently."

Portsmouth Steel Corp. was organized by Eaton in July, 1946, with 1,300,000 shares of common stock at $10 a share. It purchased the Portsmouth plant which Wheeling Steel Corp. had operated since 1922. Eaton has been board chairman of Portsmouth Steel since its inception.

After three and a half years, Eaton said, Portsmouth Steel made 116 percent. Its stock, now selling on the open market at around $12 a share, would be worth $18 if the corporation is liquidated, Helmick asserted.

"We'll resist every attempt to seize control," Eaton said. "If the management thought the ultimate value of the stock was only $18 a share, it would unhesitatingly recommend liquidation. But the management believes the stock can prove to be worth substantially more."

"There are many attractive investment opportunities. All are being investigated thoroughly and every shareholder will be fully informed."

Laughs in Store At New Holland

Dignity To Be Shed In Home Talent Show

More than a score of merchants and farmers of the New Holland community today were ready to shed their cloaks of dignity for a big night of fun Thursday when the comedy, "The Big Baby Revue," is presented on the stage of the New Holland High School auditorium.

The show, described as a "side-splitting riot of laughter," is to be put on with a cast of all men.

The New Holland Eastern Star is the sponsor. The proceeds of the entertainment probably will go toward the purchase of venetian blinds for the temple, it was said.

Members of the cast, who are seen every day on the streets of the town, will hardly be recognized on the stage. That's the promise of those who have had a peep at the rehearsals.

The cast includes such familiar characters as Mae West, Sally Rand, Al Jolson, Baby Snooks and Maggie and Jiggs. They will be portrayed by prominent businessmen of the town and farm, but when they put grease paint on and parade before the footlights, they'll look a lot different.

Rehearsals have been held every night for a week. At times the cast was so convulsed with laughter as the bow-legged beauties did their stuff, time had to be taken out to settle down.

Some Of The Cast

Some of the men who are to go from the serious ways of life to the ridiculous include: Bob Rowland (a butler), Alvin Writsel (Mrs. Finefeathers), Woodrow Workman (Miss Busybody), Robert Hosler (Miss Glamour), Joe Gooley (Baby Snooks), Vernon Benroth (Little Percy).

Wendell Shaw (Sugar Bun), Richard Asher (Miss New Holland of 1950), Eugene Bush (Dorothy Lamour), Ken Swanson (Tarzan), Arnold Downing (Sonny Boy), Joe Yates (Buttercup), Carl Reisinger (Aunt Jemima), James Shipley (Al Jolson), Robert Bush (Professor Weatherbee), Harold Hoffman (Maggie), Kenneth Craig (Jiggs), A. R. Briggs (Bing Crosby), Dudley Moon (Bride), Gerald Helsel (Groom), Robert O'Brien (Mae West), Clyde Hurless (Miss Twinkletoes and George Pettit (Lambie Pie).

The play is being directed and staged by Miss Lois Newark of Florida. She had directed a similar entertainment in Williamsport in November.

Thirty-three states have adopted official birds.

Variety Show Set In New Holland

A cast of 75 will present a variety and minstrel show in the New Holland gym at 7:30 P. M. next Monday, it was announced today.

The first half of the program will consist of tap dancing by pupils of the Johnny Godfrey dance studio, popular and semi-popular selections by the various high school glee clubs, baton twirling and other specialty acts.

A minstrel show will feature the second half of the program.

You get it from new tires, you get it from good brakes, and you get it from the good steady hum of a healthy motor happy at its work. For these mean safety—and these mean saving.

So Pure Oil built a brand new multi-million-dollar plant at the largest Pure Oil refinery, near Beaumont, Texas, to build a brand new premium quality motor oil for you—Purelube—the sure motor oil.

Engineers will explain its sureness in terms of its amazingly high V.I., its stable pour point, its detergents, oxidation inhibitors, etc., which make it "tailor made" for the new high-compression motors, and better for all motors. ## Help Available On Septic Tank, Filter Systems

Health Department
Offers Diagrammed
Information Free

With the ground soft and the weather getting right for septic tank digging, the county health department has equipped itself to aid anyone in need of septic tank information.

Diagrams of filtering systems, septic tank installations and other information are available without charge at the health department.

"Probably the first thing that anyone should know," said Health Commissioner Gordon E. Savage, "is that a permit is required from the health department before septic tank can be put in."

Three things to be considered when installing a septic tank, Dr. Savage said, are efficiency of operation, protection of water supply from contamination and treating the effluent so that it will not create a nuisance or become a public health menace.

Cast-Iron Preferable
"We feel that the sewer line from the house to the septic tank should be cast-iron soil pipe and the joints should be watertight," he added. In the case of tile or other materials, tree roots may push the pipe aside or even enter the line.

"Another important consideration is the size of the septic tank. It should have a capacity of at least 500 gallons for a medium-size family, a family of five persons," Dr. Savage said. It would be safer to add an additional 50 gallons for each member of the family, he said.

The pre-cast cement tanks were considered most desirable. But home-built cement tanks, tile, or metal, if large and heavy enough, will also serve the purpose.

The main trouble is, said the health commissioner, that people are putting in tanks that are too small. They soon fill up and cannot be used until they are cleaned out.

The septic tank should be at least ten feet from any dwelling, Dr. Savage pointed out, and at least 30 feet from the well. Blueprints for different types of filter systems are also available at the health department. But a watertight drain must be put in to carry the effluent a distance of at least 100 feet from the well before the filter starts.

Right Filter Important
Cutaway drawings also illustrate three types of filter systems and give precise measurements to aid in building filters. The three types are subsurface filter, absorption field filter and the leaching well filter. The type filter used will depend on the prosody of the ground near the septic tank.

A poorly installed septic tank and filter system can cause a lot of trouble, Dr. Savage warned. There are many wells in this area and, if the filter system is not a good one, organisms may end up in water supplies or in creeks where children can pick them up and become ill.

If the filter is poorly built, the effluent may seep to the surface and become a public nuisance. Consequently, a job well done the first time will save a lot of future trouble.

The information and diagrams on the septic tanks and filter systems are free of charge, Dr. Savage said. Most of the material came from the state department of health.

Robeson's Appearance For Mrs. FDR Is Off

NEW YORK, March 15 —(P)—Paul Robeson's scheduled appearance on Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt's television show has been called off.

A National Broadcasting Company spokesman said the left-wing Negro singer's scheduled appearance was "indefinitely postponed" and probably will be cancelled.

The Progressive Party, which Robeson was to have represented on Mrs. Roosevelt's weekly forum next Sunday, called the action "censorship of the air."

GE President New Chest Chairman

Charles Edward Wilson, president of General Electric Company, has accepted the national campaign chairmanship for Community Chests of America for 1950, according to information received by Robert Brubaker, president of the Community Chest here.

Wilson's acceptance was announced by Stanley C. Allyn, recently-elected president of Community Chests and Councils of America, Inc., and president of National Cash Register Company.

Wilson will head the nation's 1250 united Red Feather campaigns, including the Washington C. H. Community Chest, for health and welfare funds this year. He succeeds Henry Ford II, president of the Ford Motor Co., who served in the same capacity in 1948 and 1949.

The nation's Red Feather drives, which combine many health and welfare fund appeals in unified local campaigns, will be concentrated again this year in October as was the local drive last year.

Community Chests are now raising approximately $185,000 annually for support of more than 14,000 Red Feather services. There were eight participating agencies in the Chest drive here last year and officers are hoping for other organizations to be included this year.

Final Test for Census Takers Scheduled Here

Several Applicants
Fail To Pass Quiz
Held Previously

A final test for persons interested in becoming applicants for census enumerators in Fayette County will be held in Memorial Hall, third floor, next Monday, it was announced today by Paul J. Groeber, district supervisor for the census bureau.

Groeber said it is necessary for his office to conduct the third test here since a number of persons who took a previous test did not qualify. Interested persons should apply at Memorial Hall at 10:30 A. M. and 2 P. M. next Monday.

Fayette County has an assignment of 25 enumerators, who will be paid on a piece-price basis. It is estimated that they will earn between $8 and $9 a day. Those persons who work in the rural area will receive 5 cents a mile for travel.

Qualifications for the enumerators are: (1) Be able to write legibly. (2) Meet people and discuss matters intelligently. (3) Pass the written test, which lasts for an hour and consists of 31 questions. (4) Applicants must be able to get at least 10 correct answers to pass the examination.

Those who serve as census enumerators cannot reveal any confidential information. The Decennial Census Act, under which the 17th decennial population census will be taken, provides a maximum penalty of $1,000 fine and two years imprisonment for any enumerator convicted or revealing confidential information.

There is also a penalty for willful refusal to answer official population census inquiries, the maximum fine being $100 and 60 days in jail.

There is also a fine for persons knowingly furnishing false information to the census enumerators, the maximum penalty being $500 fine and a year's imprisonment. The law specifies that it is the duty of any competent individual 18 years old and over to answer the official inquiries of the enumerator.

Shark Leaps into Boat And Attacks Fishermen

MELBOURNE—(P)—When a 18 1/2 foot shark leaped into their small fishing dinghy, two men and a woman fought it for 10 minutes before killing it. Fred Gay finally killed the shark by hitting it on the head with the tiller. Neither Gay, Douglas Miller nor Miss Edna Martin were seriously injured by the shark's thrashing tail and snapping jaws. Said Miss Martin: "I'll never go fishing again."

Liner Has Garage

NEW YORK—(P)—Motorists going abroad may now drive their cars aboard an ocean liner, park them in a garage and drive ashore on the other side of the Atlantic. The garage on the motor liner Batory of the Gdynia American Line is reached by a special ramp from the dock. The usual practice in shipping cars abroad is to lift them with a derrick.

The original lighthouse on Cape Hatteras, N. C., was damaged in the Civil War and torn down when the present one was built farther inland.

Student and Faculty Cagers Ready To Go

There were secret doings behind closed doors at the WHS gym Tuesday night.

From reports that leaked out, the faculty women were practicing up on their basketball for the big game against the Bobby Soxers this Thursday night on the same court.

The Bobby Soxers-faculty women game at 8:30 P. M. will be the opener of a doubleheader being staged for the benefit of the WHS athletic fund. In the second game, the Dribbling V, intramural champs, will meet the faculty men.

The faculty women will probably welcome any and all scoring plays that cage strategists can give them, because they'll be running up against tough competition. The Bobby Soxers have gone through a season of intramural play without tasting defeat--and the schoolgirls will be out to make this their sweetest victory.

The faculty women's team will be led by Edith Ramage, girls' health and physical education teacher at the high school. She'll be flooring a team built from the WHS staff, along with a few teachers from other schools.

The faculty men's squad, captained by Ron Guinn, will have no easy time with the Dribbling V in the second game.

The Dribbling V cagers are big and rough and ready. They also can play basketball.

But the faculty men have depth, along with some good talent that could turn the tide. One of their advantages is the unknown factor covering the playing ability of many of the team members. Who knows, but the Dribbling V may run across an ex-ace they hadn't reckoned on.

The grunts and groans between the games might be coming from teachers who tried to get into condition too fast, but they'll also come from two matmen--Dale Orihood and James Reynolds.

Dale and Jim will put on a wrestling exhibition for the crowd. Adding to the variety of the sportshow will be Mary Waters, who will give a satirical reading.

Commercial League Lead Still Tied

The Commercial League lead today was still in a deadlock with the Kaufmen and Mark Constructors sharing the No. 1 spot for the second consecutive week.

Each of the pace setters won two out of three in Tuesday night's bowling at Bowland.

Helfrich's Marketeers won the middle game from the Kaufmen and Cudahy's Packers took the opener from the Constructors.

Honors, however, go to the Kaufmen for the evening's high total. They rolled a fat 2629 without handicap compared to the 2477, the second high, turned in by the Constructors.

Four of the five Kaufmen went over the 500 mark in individual scores. In the other matches, most of the scores were in the 400s.

Not one clean sweep was made Tuesday night. The Brown and Brockmeyer outfit won the last two games from the Sunlights after dropping the opener by 63 pins and the Farm Bureau boys took the first two from the Holliday crew before they were handed a set-back, with a two-pin margin, in the last game.

CHAPTER THIRTY-NINE

"THIS IS the bad part," Randolph confessed, glancing at the closed bedroom door. "When I turned away from the phone, I saw a girl standing there with a pistol in her hand, threatening me. For God's sake, Mike, try to see this my way, ne pleaded. 'I didn't know who she was or now she got there. I'm afraid I didn't stop to think. First, the telephone call with hints of danger, then suddenly I was confronted with a gun-moll in a negligee. 'I acted instinctively, that's all. I jumped toward her to grab the gun before the thing went off. She jumped back and tripped over the rug, I guess. I swear to God I didn't touch her, Mike. It was an accident. She struck her head on the radiator and the pistol fell out of her hand on the floor. She was bleeding when I got to her. I laid her on the bed and tried to think what to do. Remember, I still didn't know who she was, but I presumed she was one of the jewel m.u. And I'd promised Mrs. Dustin to be at the Beach in half an hour. I couldn't afford to stay here and answer all sorts of questions. I tell you Mrs. Dustin sounded beside herself with fear. I felt I had to get to her.' 'So you calmly walked out of here, not knowing whether Lucy was dead or alive,' Shayne remarked.

"She was breathing when I left her. I couldn't tell how badly she was hurt. Remember, I thought she was lurking here to ambush you. In the excitement and the pressure of time, I thought it best to get away fast. So that's what I did." "Leaving a girl to die without medical attention. Doc Price said i. he'd been ten minutes later getting to her she probably would have died. It may have been an accident as you say, but going off and leaving her like that without medical attention turns it into attempted murder." "It couldn't have made more than a few minutes difference," Randolph stated, "if I'd called at once from your phone. I stopped at the drugstore on the corner and phoned the clerk here in the apartment and asked him to get the house doctor on the phone for me. I didn't know his name, but..." "Wait a minute," Shayne's forehead was knitted in a frown. "You claim you called the doctor? What did you tell him?" "That there'd been an accident here and he was needed right away. See here, Mike," demanded Randolph hoarsely, "why are you looking at me like that? As though you don't believe me." "Do you know the number of my apartment?" "Of course. It's three-oh-six." Shayne got up and opened the bedroom door. "Doctor Price, will you step in here a moment?" The doctor came in and Shayne said, "This man claims he called you from a drugstore immediately after Miss Hamilton's accident." "He lies," Dr. Price said readily. "The only call I had last night was some practical joker sending me up to six-oh-three." "Six-oh-three?" said Randolph, puzzled for a moment, then he exclaimed, "Six-oh-three! Good Lord. Don't you see what must have happened? I'm sorry and excited. I transposed the numbers. Six-oh-three instead of three-oh-six." "It's possible," Shayne agreed, "and it's also possible that you did it intentionally just to give yourself an alibi for going off and leaving Lucy to die. You could always claim you got the numbers transposed."

"I don't see now you can believe a thing like that of me," Randolph said, genuinely hurt. "Every word I've told you is the truth." "Maybe I'm not sure there's a word of truth in any of it," growled Shayne. "You've had plenty of time to fix up a plausible story. If you are telling the truth and didn't have any reason for feeling guilty about Lucy, why did you deny it so vehemently until she identified you?" Randolph shuddered and said in a low voice, "Because of Mrs. Dustin. I didn't know now much of the telephone conversation this girl had overheard. If she knew it was I who went over to meet Mrs. Dustin outside the hotel..." He lost control of his voice for a moment.

Dr. Price returned to the sick room and came back with his bag. "I've arranged for a relief for Miss Taylor at noon. Miss Hamilton is going to be all right with rest and the proper attention." Shayne thanked him, and he went out. Randolph nervously resumed his story. "You see, I did keep that appointment with Mrs. Dustin. But it was too late, Mike. Someone else had kept the appointment before me. She was dead. Lying on the sand at the edge of the water right beside the bathing pier." "So you left her like that, too. Without giving an alarm."

"She was dead. I took time to make sure of that. An alarm wouldn't do her any good. Look at my position again," pleaded Randolph. Sweat popped out on his face anew and ran in little rivulets down his chin. "She'd been killed very recently. The blood was still fresh. I supposed the doctor was with Miss Hamilton already. I didn't know but what she had revived and told her story. The police might already be on their way to the Sunlux to intercept me. And there I was with a corpse at my feet. Would anyone have believed my story?" "Probably not. No more than I believe it now."

"There you are. My one thought was to get away from there fast. Put yourself in my place, Mike. It might have been you who kept that appointment with Mrs. Dustin if you'd been here to answer your phone. As I said, I wasn't sure how much the girl here had heard. I wasn't sure she got a good enough look to identify me. Don't you see how I was caught in a net of circumstantial evidence. I couldn't help Mrs. Dustin any by letting myself be arrested. I hurried home and dug out those papers from my files and spread them around to give the impression that I'd been working on them all evening in case anyone dropped in... as you did."

"And if I don't turn you in," said Shayne harshly, "I'll be handing you a chance to make a clean getaway." "Let me make a deal with you," begged Randolph. "I don't make deals with a murderer... or anyone who may be a murderer." "Let me say what I was going to say. You've indicated that you think you know where to put your hands on the bracelet. That's mighty important to me, and to my company. Do you want to throw away a fat fee?" "No one ever accused me of not wanting money," Shayne retorted.

Crowd Is Blamed For Death in Fire

AMITE, La., March 15 —(P)—Four-month-old Joann Chavers died yesterday in a blaze which firemen said they could not reach because of so many spectators.

Charles Boyd, 52, a neighbor, rushed into the burning house and rescued Luther Chavers, Jr., the girl's three-year-old brother. But he was not able to re-enter the house.

Mrs. Jessie Dunkin, another neighbor, was burned on the hands and face in an effort to reach the girl.

The fire was said to have started from a trash burner.

At an indignation meeting last night, Fire Chief Joseph Binder charged that curiosity seekers had been continually blocking traffic at fires.

In the planned invasion of Japan, as revealed by General Marshall, all six Marine divisions were earmarked for the assault on the Japanese homeland.

Roy Hensley, whose last known place of residence and address is Arlington, Indiana, Rural Route 1, is hereby notified that Ruby Hensley has filed her petition against him for divorce, in case No. 20959, of the Court of Common Pleas of Fayette County, Ohio, and that said cause will be for hearing on and after the 30th day of March, 1950.
